IT has been almost universally believed, that Providence has distributed the peculiar powers necessary for the successful cultivation of the art of singing, with a hand so very unequal, that the few who are favored, become musicians without difficulty, and almost without instruction or effort, while to the vast majority the attainment of any valuable degree of musical skill is almost entirely hopeless. In this supposed decision of Providence, mankind have generally acquiesced, and have allowed this art to remain solely in the possession of the few, not because they have regarded it as of little value, but because they have considered its attainment impracticable.

A change is, however, very rapidly taking place, upon this subject, in the public mind. Proofs of the very general, if not universal, power to understand the distinctions of musical sound, and to control, in accordance with them, the modulations of the voice, are multiplying. The number of the young who receive instruction, and make successful progress in this art, is rapidly increasing ; and as the hope arises that this acquisition may be made by all, it is viewed with more attention, and its various advantages are more and more highly appreciated. Let us briefly mention some of them.

1. It is a most important means of promoting devotional feelings in the worship of God; and it is far more powerful in its effects upon those who join in it, than upon those who merely listen. It is to be hoped that the time is coming when none, who do not labor under peculiar incapacities, will consent to be excluded from this delightful part of divine service, or feel themselves excused from joining in the praises of their Creator.

2. Music is, in itself, a source of the purest enjoyment. It may occupy the vacant hours, express, innocently and happily, the lively feelings of childhood and youth, and afford rest and refreshment to the mind wearied with the cares and labors of life. The gladness of the heart is calmed, but deepened by its power; and sorrow almost becomes enjoyment by being expressed in song.

3. It promotes health. As a mere exercise, it is considered by many physicians as a most valuable means of strengthening the lungs; but tranquillity of mind is of more value in restoring the bodily powers than mere muscular exertion. How soon does strong mental agitation derange everything in the system? Grief refuses food;—terror becomes faint and pale;—and long continued anxiety will bring the strongest to the grave. Music reverses these effects, and while it calms the mind, invigorates the body.

4. Its influence is favorable upon the mental powers. From its very nature, it cultivates the habits of order and union. All must follow a precise rule, and act together in obedience to a leader; and the habit thus acquired in one pursuit, necessarily has its influence in others.

5. It improves the heart. No one will question its power to soften the character and elevate the feelings. It diverts, too, the young from amusements of a questionable character, and it is said that a reformation has in more than one village and district been effected, by introducing vocal music among the youth. In the schools upon the Continent of Europe, it has been found materially to promote the good order and discipline of the pupils; to render them more kind to each other, and more obedient to their teachers.

The full influence of music is only felt where it is combined with appropriate words, and is employed in fixing useful instruction in the mind, and elevated and devotional feelings in the heart. Good or evil principles may be fixed most deeply by its influence. The Marseilles Hymn has often nerved the arm to bloodshed, while the songs of Zion have brought to penitence many a sinful heart. It has been justly observed that the ballads of a nation have more influence than its laws; and in a country where the laws and the government are based upon the character of the people, it becomes of inconceivable importance that every avenue to the conscience and the heart be guarded by virtue and piety. It is with the hope of contributing to this result, that these songs are given to the public. A large portion of them are translated from works which were collected by the Rev. William C. Woodbridge,* during a recent visit to Germany, and placed by him in the hands of the Editors, with the hope of rendering them useful to the children and youth of this country.

They have peculiar claims to confidence, on the ground that they are derived from collections formed with great care, by individuals familiar with the wants and feelings of children; and have been found by experience admirably adapted to cultivate the powers, elevate the taste, improve the character, and cheer and animate the hearts of whole communities of children. They have also received the sanction of the public guardians of education in many parts of Europe, and form a part of that course of instruction which is deemed indispensable to a well organized school. Most of them have been translated by Mr. S. F. Smith,† in such a manner as to preserve the music as originally written. The same gentleman has also furnished several very beautiful original songs. A number have been taken from an interesting little volume of Poems for children, by Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, and a few from other sources. To these, original music has been written.

It will be seen that some of the songs are intended to be mere expressions of childish pleasure;—others, descriptions of the warmest and best feelings of the heart;—and others still associate moral and religious instruction with the objects we see, and the common events we witness; and thus serve to lead the child ‘through nature up to nature’s God.’ Could we put such songs into the mouths of the numerous children of our country, who does not perceive the happy influence which would be exerted upon the feelings and manners and morals of the rising generation, on whose character the future destiny of the country depends?

THE GARDEN

Allegretto

The musical score consists of three staves of music. The top staff is in G major (two sharps) and common time (indicated by '3'). The middle staff is in G major (two sharps) and common time (indicated by '3'). The bottom staff is in C major (no sharps or flats) and common time (indicated by '3'). The lyrics are integrated into the music, with each line of text corresponding to a measure. The music features eighth and sixteenth notes, with some notes beamed together. The lyrics are as follows:

O come to the gar - den, dear mates of the school, And rove through the bow - ers so fragrant and cool.

We'll gather the lily and jessamine fair,
 And twine them with roses to garland our hair.

We'll cull all the sweetest to make a bouquet,
 To give to our teacher this warm summer day.

Then hie to our school-room, with joy and with glee,
 And sing our sweet ballads, so happy are we.

Sing the last verse very soft and repeat it loud.

THE MEADOW SPRING.

11

Andantino.

The musical score consists of three staves of music. The top staff is in G clef, 2/4 time, and B-flat key signature. The middle staff is in G clef, 2/4 time, and C key signature. The bottom staff is in C clef, 2/4 time, and B-flat key signature. The music is composed of eighth and sixteenth notes. The lyrics are as follows:

Little, cool - ing meadow spring, Bright and sparkling,
 full and free, List - en while our song we sing,
 For it is a song to thee.

Oft we wander to thy brink,
 Faint and thirsty from our play;
 And we gather as we drink,
 Strength and vigor for the day.

Many joys to thee we owe,
 Silver fountain, cool and clear;
 In thy cheerful stream we throw
 Every care and every fear.

Often on thy border green,
 Plucking flow'rs, we sit and rest;
 When we rise, ourselves are seen, † We shall slumber in the grave,
 Pictured on thy glassy breast.      But there is a heaven to come.

We are passing, like thy wave,
 Onward to our final home:

† Sing this line soft and slow, and pause on the word 'grave.'

THE BOAT SONG.

Allegretto.

The musical score consists of four staves of music. The first three staves are in common time (indicated by '2/4') and the fourth staff is in 3/4 time. The key signature is A major (three sharps). The lyrics are integrated into the music, appearing below the staves. The first staff contains the beginning of the song: 'Glide a - long, our bon - ny boat! The'. The second staff continues: 'lake is gleaming, With sunlight beaming:'. The third staff begins with 'Light - - ly o'er its bo - - som float.'. The fourth staff concludes the phrase with 'float.'

Now we speed our shining way! Flies the mist before the wind!
 Now rocking hither, And as we glide
 Now rocking thither, Along the tide,
 O'er the waters, blithe and gay! How we leave the shore behind!

Onward then, our little boat!
 All our hours
 Are twin'd with flowers,
 While we on the bright wave float!

SPRING FLOWERS.

15

Andantino.

Kind the Spring appears, Softest smiles it wears;

Pretty flow'rs are springing; Little birds are singing

On the lofty trees, Waving in the breeze.

Sister, on the ground
Many flowers we found;
Yet we will be seeking,
On the green bank sleeping,
By the rivulet,
Tender violet.

How it fills the air
With its fragrance there!
Lovely little flower,
Bending to the shower,
May we learn of thee
Sweet humility.

LONGING TO WALK.

Allegretto.

The musical score consists of two staves. The top staff is for the voice, starting with a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp, and a common time signature (indicated by '2'). The lyrics are: "O mother, dearest mother, A walk I long to take, A-". The bottom staff is for the instrument, starting with a bass clef, a key signature of one sharp, and a common time signature (indicated by '4'). The lyrics continue: "long the sunny border Of yonder glassy lake. Of yonder glassy lake." The score is labeled "Instrument." above the second staff.

MOTHER. <sup>2</sup> "My daughter, dearest daughter,
You must not go alone;
But wait and walk with brother,
Where flowers so gay are blown."

DAUGHTER. <sup>3</sup> "O mother, dearest mother,
My brother is a child;
He kills the little songster
That cheers the forest wild."

MOTHER. <sup>4</sup> "Well, daughter, dearest daughter,
You must not go alone;
Walk with your little sister,
Where flowers so sweet are strown."

DAUGHTER <sup>5</sup> "O mother, dearest mother,
My sister is a child;
She plucks each little flower,
That blooms so soft and mild."

MOTHER <sup>6</sup> "Then take your book, my daughter,
And sit by me awhile,
Till, on the polished water,
The parting sunbeams smile."

<sup>7</sup> "And we will walk together,
Where the tall fir trees nod;
And hear the pious cotter
Sing evening praise to God."

THE LITTLE WANDERERS' SONG.

17

Allegro.

blithe and gay, And to cheer us on our way, We will sing a joyful chorus:

Free from care and free from harm, Let us ramble arm in arm.

What care we for all your pleasures,
Ye that ride, or ye that sail?
All our toil is but a tale,
While we look for flowery treasures—
New delights where'er we go,
Can we weary?—No! no! no!

What care we how far we wander,
Whether rough or smooth the way?
Whether shines the sultry ray,
Whether rolls the distant thunder?—
On we'll go till night-fall come,
Then away to home, sweet home!

Come and pluck the beauteous flowers,
See them smiling all around:
Hark! I hear a charming sound
Swelling from yon shady bowers!
'Tis the little timid thrush,
Come and listen—Hush! hush! hush!

Thus, our warm affections plighted
Through this earthly pilgrimage,
We'll each other's cares assuage.
Thus with heart to heart united,
May we ramble hand in hand
In that bright and better land.

SEE THE SUN, WITH GOLDEN RAYS. (Trio.)

Andantino.

See the sun, with golden rays, Ever shining o'er us,
 See the trees, and hills, and vales, Ever spread be - - fore us:
 Ev - er is the earth the same, All its joys are fleet - ing. Days come as they al - - ways came, Still their course re - - peat - - ing.

Years come on, and years depart,
 Seasons still are ending,
 Flowers bloom and flowers fade,
 All to dust are tending:
 Kingdoms full of might and pride,
 Fading glory borrow;
 Lay their might and power aside—
 What are they tomorrow!

As the arrow from the string,
 Or the swift bird, flying;
 So we all are hastening,
 To the hour of dying.
 To the grave the aged bows,
 On his weak staff leaning;
 And the freshness of the young
 His red cheek is leaving.

 Fleeting time conducts us on,
 Let us cheerful follow,
 Till we come where Jesus is,
 Where there's no more sorrow.
 Hasting onward to the grave,
 Here we ask one favor,
 Saviour lead us to thy throne,
 O forsake us neve!

ON MOUNTAIN TOP.

19

Larghetto.

On mountain top, There dwells a God of might; He sheds the morning light; And wa - ters with the dew ----- The flow'rs of every hue. On mountain top, On mountain top, A gracious, gracious Father dwells.

On mountain top
 The grazing cattle stray,
 The tender lambkins play,
 And all in gladness share
 A bounteous Father's care.
 On mountain top, &c.

On mountain top
 The sun with golden beam
 Shines on the glitt'ring stream, At early dawn of day;
 And on its grassy brink[drink. And as he lower bends,
 The beauteous white flocks His soul to God ascends.
 On mountain top, &c.

On mountain top
 The shepherd loves to pray
 The beauteous white flocks His soul to God ascends.
 On mountain top, &c.

THE VIOLET.

Allegretto

Within a vale it dwelt, When morn's first ray it felt, The flow'r of softest hue, The vi - o - - let so sweet, so blue.

Mild from the moss it peep'd,
In its gold bosom slept
The spring-dew's gentle gleams,
As pure, as pure, as liquid gems.

Amid the zephyr's play,
It breathed its scent away
Upon a pure sun-ray,
And died, and died, in beauteous
May.

HOW SWEET IS THE DAY.

Allegretto.

The sabbath-bell rings,
The full choir sings,
The minister prays;
And God's holy word
Devoutly is heard,
And given his grace.

The dear place of prayer—
Our teachers are there,
To point us above;
Their hearts burn with zeal,
That children may feel
The Saviour's kind love.

To school, then, we'll go,
For surely we know
Our sabbaths must end;
O then to the skies,
Redeemed may we rise
To Jesus our friend.

THE LITTLE VALLEY.

Allegro.

Charming lit - tle valley, Smiling all so gaily, Like an angel's brow; Spreading out thy treasures,

Calling us to pleasures, In - no - cent as thou.

Skies are bright above thee,
 Peace and quiet love thee,
 Tranquil little dell ;
 In thy fragrant bowers
 Twining wreaths of flowers,
 Love and friendship dwell.

May our spirits daily
 Be like thee, sweet valley,
 Tranquil and serene;
 Emblem to us given
 Of the vales of heaven,
 Ever bright and green.

SAILING ON THE WATER.

29

Allegretto.

By the moon so brightly shining O'er the calm unruffled tide: On its bosom soft reclining, Gently up and down we ride. Little boat thou movest onward Without sail and without mast, Little stream that flowest downward, Bearing us upon thy breast.

While our boat, a little ranger,
 Through the meadows glides along,
 Free from fear and free from danger,
 Sing we now our little song.
 Ocean's grandeur, ocean's treasure,
 Ocean's beauty charm us not,
 We are tasting sweeter pleasure,
 Floating in this little spot.

Vain is all that gold can offer,
 Vain the sceptre and the crown;
 False the happiness they proffer,
 Fleeting all the joys they own.
 With our humble lot contented,
 This is all the boon we crave;
 When life's voyage shall be ended,
 Peaceful rest beyond the grave.

Allegretto.

The musical score consists of six staves of music. The first three staves are in common time (b6), the fourth in common time (b6), the fifth in common time (C), and the sixth in common time (C). The key signature is B-flat major. The vocal line is accompanied by a piano or harp, with the piano part providing harmonic support and rhythmic patterns. The lyrics are integrated into the musical score, appearing below the vocal line.

Down in a green and shady bed A modest violet grew; Its stalk was bent, it hung its head, As if to hide from view. And yet it was a lovely flow'r, Its colors bright, and fair; It might have grac'd a rosy bower, Instead of hiding there.

Yet there it was content to bloom,
 In modest tints arrayed;
 And there it spread its sweet perfume
 Within the silent shade.
 Then let me to the valley go,
 This pretty flower to see;
 That I may also learn to grow,
 In sweet humility.

soft and ten - der light; How pleasant is its radiance! 'Tis gone,—and now, 'tis bright.

I knew the place at evening,
Where in the sky it stood,
Where doves all-day were cooing,
O'er green and shady woo~~o~~.

I looked to see it glimmer,
Up in the brilliant blue;
For to its nightly station,
It soon would come, I knew.

32 THE PLEASING SPRING HAS COME AGAIN.

Andantino.

The pleasant Spring has come again, The pretty birds are here; The grass grows in the gentle rain, And buds and flow'rs appear—And buds and flow'rs appear.

I love to see the sky so clear, And all things look so gay; The fairest month in all the year Is sweet and sunny May— Is sweet and sun-ny May.

And well I know the cold deep snow
And winter storms are past;
Now merrily to school I'll go,
Nor fear the chilling blast.
I love the sun, the gentle wind,
And bird, and flower, and bud,
And well I love my teacher kind,
But best I love my God.

SONG IN THE WOODS.

Allegro.

The musical score consists of three staves of music. The first staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp, and a common time signature. The second staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp, and a common time signature. The third staff begins with a common time signature and a key signature of one sharp. The lyrics are integrated into the music, appearing below the notes. The first section of lyrics is: "In the cool and leafy grove, Hand in hand we love to rove, While in every sha-dy tree, Birds tune up their mel-o-dy; Let us join their pretty song, And the har-mo-ny pro-long." The music continues with three more staves of music, each corresponding to a section of lyrics.

Of the mighty oaks we'll sing,
And the flowers that near them spring,
Of the trees above our head,
And the grass on which we tread ;
Of the little verdant hills,
Purling brooks and running rills.

Listen how the rustling leaves,
Ever quivering in the breeze,
Send forth each a separate sound,
To the echoing woods around ;—
Sounds of praise to him who made
Pine clad hills and forest-glade.

• See ! around the brilliant flowers,
Freshened by the evening showers ;
Bright by morning, bright by night,
When comes, and when fades the light,
In the cool and leafy grove,
Hand in hand we love to rove.

 The Spring is come! new life is gleaming
 O'er all the earth and brilliant sky;
 The warm sun on the world is beaming,
 And heaven is full of melody.
 Oh listen, &c.

 The Spring is come! away with dulness—
 Go to the rich and verdant fields;
 While morning glows in all its fulness,
 Go taste the joys the spring-time yields

The blossoms we'll pluck with a childish delight,
And get us a bunch of the red and the white.

We'll plant the dark roots, and the shoots we'll stick down,
To weave us next may-day a flowery crown.

Again at our school, when the loud bell shall ring,
Our books we will read, and our songs we will sing.

SALUTATION TO THE VILLAGE.

37

Andante.

Little vale, with fairy meadows, Trees, that spread your leafy hands,
Flowers clothed in softest beauty, Loveli - - - er than eastern lands;

Instrument.

Village! home of every treasure, Thee we sing in strains of pleasure.

Village, in the silent vale, Lovely vil - lage ! thee we hail !

Oft thy pleasant evening shadows
Make our troubled passions cease;
Oft thy melody of rivers
Fills our souls with joy and peace;
Village, tender thought promoting—
Like the clouds in azure floating;
Village in the silent vale,
Lovely village! thee we hail !

In thy green and sunny pastures,
Near thy bright and glassy streams,
Free from care, we love to wander,
Cheered by summer's radiant beams.
Scenes of sweetest recollection
Sacred to the soul's reflection,
Village in the silent vale,
Lovely village! thee we hail !

Fare ye well, ye ancient beeches,
Which have shielded oft our head ;
Still be green, ye sunny meadows,
Fields, with brightest flowers be spread ;
Fields, where oft the reaper's song
Sounded in echoes sweet and strong,
Farewell !

Pleasant village ! oft thy beauties
Shall revive within our breast ;
And the lovely recollection
Soothe, like visits from the blest.
Often to our tearful eyes
Shall thy cherished image rise.
Farewell.

OUR PLEASANT VILLAGE.

39

Andante.

O see how bright and sweetly shines Our village in the evening;

Instrument.

While crimson clouds and streaks of gold Their fairy forms are weaving: How peaceful is the dewy air! How peaceful is the dewy air! No place on earth—No place on earth is half so fair, No place on earth, No place on earth is half so fair.

Look how the distant window panes,
The parting sunbeams lighten;
And autumn's scarlet-colored leaves,
Touched by the red rays, brighten:
O see our pretty village there,
No place on earth is half so fair.

And now the burning sun is gone;
It only tips the towers
That rise above the temple-roof';
And now the darkness lowers.
But still our village glimmers there,
No place on earth is half so fair.

THE BRIGHT HEARTH

41

Allegretto.

Now the gloo - my win - ter days, Clouds and storms are coming on,

Instrument.

But our cheer - ful hearth doth blaze Brighter than the sum - mer sun.

Here, my mother, we can stay
With thee, in this pleasant room;
Who would ask abroad to play,
When so cheerful is their home?

Soft the song of summer bird,
Sweet the breath of summer flower,
But a kind, a loving word,
Comes with sweeter, softer power.

Mother, when the loving voice
Checks or cheers, we will obey,
And be silent, or rejoice
Through this stormy, gloomy day.

And when evening shades appear,
Brighter still will glow our hearth,
Then our father will be here,
And his smile will join our mirth.

Come, see the springing corn!
 Come hear the soft winds singing!
 Come hear their music ringing,
 At crimson eve and morn.

Come to the land of song—
 The land of sweetest fragrance ;
 Where pleasure throws its radiance,
 And music floats along.

Up to the hill-tops come—
 Where bloom the smiling flowers ;
 And spring, with freshened powers,
 Awakes its insect hum.

THE THUNDER STORM.

43

Moderato.

The musical score consists of three staves of music. The top staff is in common time, common key, with a treble clef. The middle staff is in common time, common key, with a treble clef. The bottom staff is in common time, common key, with a bass clef. The lyrics are integrated into the music, with some words appearing below the staff lines. The music features various note values including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. The lyrics describe a thunderstorm, with the final line being a repeated call to 'Hark! the thunder roars'.

Look! the black cloud ri - ses high—Now it spreads along the sky— See! the quiv - - ering light - ning gy—

Hark! the thun - der roars, Hark! the thun - der roars.

Yet will I not shrink with fear,
When the thunder crash I hear;
Soon the rainbow will appear,
And the storm be o'er.

In the summer's sultry day,
When the hot winds round us play,
We should sink, the fever's prey,
And revive no more.

But the dark clouds fill the skies,
And the vivid lightning flies:
When the cooling winds arise,
And our pains are o'er.

Never will I feel alarm,
God can shield us from all harm;
In the sunshine or the storm,
God will I adore.

THE CUCKOO.

Allegro.

HYMN OF PRAISE.

Moderato.

O Lord! while an-gels praise thee, And all cre-a-tion sings, To thee al-migh-ty spir-it! My soul its trib-ute brings.

The morning stars all praise thee ;
The heavenly host on high.
The beams of early dawning,
And purple evening sky.

The fragrant springing-flowers,
And summer's glowing rays,
The golden fruits of autumn,
And winters frozen days.

With pleasure thou dost listen,
To hear an infant sing,
Thou wilt accept the praises
That little children bring.

To thee I give my being,
I consecrate my days ;
And every day my duty
Shall be to sing thy praise.

SUMMER MORNING.

L.M.

Allegretto.

How beautiful the morning, When summer days are long; O we will rise betimes and hear, The wild-birds' happy song—For when the sun pours down his ray The bird will cease to sing; She'll seek the cool and silent shade, And sit with folded wing.

Up in the morning early—
 'Tis Nature's gayest hour!
 While pearls of dew adorn the grass,
 And fragrance fills the flowers.—
 Up in the morning early,
 And we will bound abroad
 And fill our hearts with melody,
 And raise our songs to God.

PLEASURES OF INNOCENCE.

Allegro.

Bliss is hov'ring smiling ev - ry where,

Hov'ring o'er the verdant mountain, Smiling in the glassy fountain,

Bliss is hov'ring smiling ev - ry where.

Innocence unseen is ever near;
In the tall tree top it lingers,
In the nest of feathered singers;
Innocence unseen is ever near.

Up—and weave us now a flowery crown;
See the blossoms all unfolding,
Each its beauteous station holding;—
Up—and weave us now a flowery crown.

Pleasure echoes—echoes—far and near;
From the green bank deck'd with flowers,
Sunny hills and pleasant bowers;—
Pleasure echoes—echoes—far and near.

Go ye forth and join the May-day throng;

Emblems ever cheering
Of eternal light.

MORNING SONG.

Andante.

Now gloomy night is gone, And smiling day comes on; The morning dawn is breaking, And we, from slumbers waking, Look up to thee our Sav - iour, And seek thy daily fav - or.

Grant us thy watchful care,
To save from ev'ry snare,
O make us good and holy,
And teach us to be lowly,
And kind in every feeling,
And to each other yielding.

If pain and want we bear,
Be thou our Saviour there,
To shine upon us brighter,
And make the sorrows lighter,
That are to mortals given
To make them fit for heaven.

Lord, give us daily food,

THE LITTLE WEAVER.

Allegro.

I am a little weaver, and pleasant are my days,
My little wheel keeps whirling, and round me Kit-ty plays;
My life so calm and happy, so bright and active is, There is no joy I wish for, to crown my earth-ly bliss.

My songs are never silent but in the peaceful night,
I always rise to labor when day is growing light;
But though I am so busy, I'm sure I do not care,
They rather should be pitied who always idle are.

And while my wheel keeps whirling, the hours they seem not
I feel all day so happy, so lively is my song;
My work, it never wearies, but gives me health, you see,
And I am always cheerful,—O don't you envy me?

So the teacher turned him out,
But still he lingered near,
And waited patiently about,
Till Mary did appear;
And then he ran to her, and laid

THE CRICKET.

Allegro.

While the world is sleeping,
 Cricket, thou art peeping,
 In the rustling trees;
 Wakeful as the starlight
 Morning, Noon, and Midnight,
 Chirping, chirping, chirping,
 Chirp away in peace.

Soon the leaves o'ershading,
 Will be seared and fading,
 Scattered on the breeze;
 While the days are lovely,
 O then let us hear thee,
 Chirping, chirping, chirping,
 Chirp away in peace.

Moderato.

Man, to thee is heavenly grace;
O be thou, then, to thy race,
As a fount to sun-parched pastures.

Streams forth the flag of peace o'er the world:

Like the rain-bow after tempest,
Man, to thee is heavenly grace;
O be thou, then, to thy race,
Like the rainbow after tempest.

Now the wintry time has come, Silent is the insect hum, Now the wintry time has come.

O what hardships they endure! Telling of the shivering poor, O what hardships they endure!

Come around the pleasant fire,
See how sprightly it is burning!
Evening lights the tall church spire;
All are to their homes returning;
Let us try to spend it well,
Till we hear its closing bell.

Soon the spring of life will end:
Fast our youthful days are flying!
To the grave our footsteps tend,
Where the frozen snows are lying:
Father, when our age is past,
O receive our souls at last.

How pleasant to look
In the murmuring brook,
And hear its soft sound!
How happy are we!
How nimble and free
We run o'er the ground!

Now gone is the light,
Quickly comes the dark night,
All still is the vale:
We'll go to our rest,
Nor wake till red-breast
Renews his soft tale.

66 THROUGH THE BUSHY FIELDS TO RUN.

Allegretto.

Through the bushy fields to run, And to see the pleasant sun, And soft twi - - light. Through the meadows and the grove, With my nimble feet to rove, Is my de - light, Is my de - - light.

From the lofty hill to see When so happy and so gay In the bower of shady trees,
 Sky serene and rolling sea, Mongst the lovely flow'rs I Shaken by a gentle breeze,
 And clouds of white: stray, When fades the light,
 And some pretty song to All fair and bright; Little Robin there to hear, sing Then to pluck a rose for you Singing praises without fear,
 While I hear the echo ring, Fresh and sparkling with the Is my delight.
 Is my delight. dew,
 Is my delight.

O welcome glorious image
Of Justice reconciled;
So great and so majestic,
But yet so soft and mild.

With grateful hearts and voices
We hail thy kindly rays;
All nature now rejoices,
And sings aloud thy praise

O shed thy radiance o'er us,
And cheer each youthful mind;
Like thee our Lord is glorious,
Like thee our God is kind

MORNING-STAR AND EVENING-STAR.

Moderato.

Morning star and evening star! Whom the Lord hath kindled for us: He who promis'd, near and far, E'er to roll benignant o'er us, Morning star and evening star.

F.

Every where, and every hour,
 I behold him condescending,
 Watching o'er me, evermore,
 Messengers of beauty sending,
 Morning-star and evening-star.

Let this tho't e'er with thee go,
 Soul, to sanctify thy hours,—
 While yon heav'nly fountains flow,
 Gently fresh'ning all thy powers,
 Morning-star and evening-star

To thy Saviour, nature's King,
 Let thy grateful song aspire!
 Him yon suns adoring sing,
 Angels hymning on the lyre—
 Morning-star and evening-star.

“SUFFER LITTLE CHILDREN TO COME UNTO ME.”

L.M.

Recitative. Single voice.

And they brought unto Jesus, young children, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them. But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them:—
